

MATTY ACTON

Matty Acton joined Sydney's number one hit music station 2day FM in 2010 as an announcer and Assistant Music Director.

In 2011 the vibrant 23-year-old now co-hosts national Today Network's Hot30 Countdown on weeknights with Maude Garrett.

Matty started in radio when he was 16 years old in his home town of Gladstone Queensland. His passion for the mike led him to Toowoomba, Sunshine Coast and Gold Coast, announcing on various shows.

Matty hosted a national night show on over 40 regional Australian radio stations plus Hit List TV weekend music video show on Southern Cross Ten.

Also to his credit he co-hosted the MTV Hits Weekly Hot30 Countdown alongside Erin McNaught which featured on-air nationally on the Today Network and was televised on MTV Hits.

MATTY'S THOUGHTS

"Working in Sydney at 2day FM has been my dream since getting into radio, I love my job and think I'm lucky to get paid for what I do!

"In my spare time, apart from needlework and collecting vintage tubes of toothpaste I also love to DJ at nightclubs and festivals."
